By Roger Plasse

The Arnold Air Society of St. Michael's AFROTC detachment last Monday evening in Sc. 308 initiated 27 new members.

Those initiated were: Ed Anibal, Kevin Bergen, Barry Burke, Bill Burns, Pete Comber, Larry Constanzo, Pete Culhane, Kent Eisentraut, Ed Goyette, John Hamilton, Joe Hart, John Joyce, Bob Hesler, Jerry Humiston, Jim Kane, Neal Kelly, Joe Kennedy, Harold Lloyd, Walt McGrail, John McDonald, Joe Maloney, Bill O'Connell, Roger Plasse, Tom Purcell, Tom Sheridan, Bob Simpson, Jack Sinnott, Jack Veno, and Bill Young.

Of the new members initiated 19 are sophomores and the remainder are juniors.

QUALIFICATIONS

The new members are chosen on the basis of their leadership qualities and their scholastic record. Nearly all of the new members are past members of the now defunct Sabre Air Command.

HONORARY ORGANIZATION

The Arnold Air Society is an honorary organization for advanced cadets of the Air Force ROTC. Membership in this society offers many advantages to each of its members. One of them is that it is an excellent stepping stone for cadets to receive a regular commission in the Air Force.

It also provides an excellent opportunity for a cadet to become a distinguished military student. And finally, membership in this society is recorded on a cadet's permanant Air Force record.

OFFICERS ELECTED

At a previous meeting the Society elected its new officers. All the new officers are Juniors except one, Jack Sinnott, a sophomore. The newly elected officers are as follows:

Ed Goyette - Commanding Officer, Joe Maloney - Comptroller, Bill Young - I.S.O., Tom Purcell - Adjutant Recorder, Jack Sinnott - Insurance, John Joyce - Operations and Training. The Society also elected Bergen as chairman of next year's Military Weekend.

Three Detachment Officers To Leave

Maj. Joseph Hurley, USAF

With the beginning of the school year next September four new faces will be seen among the R.O.T.C. Detachment. These four men will replace the three officers and one enlisted man who are leaving this summer.

Major Joseph Hurley is leaving for the Advanced Logistics School at the Air Force Institute of Technology, Wright Patterson Field, Dayton, Ohio. He will be replaced by Major Michael Jacobs whose last assignment was in Germany.

WILKENS REPLACES RICE

Returning from England, Captain Robert Wilkens will be stationed at St. Michael's to replace Captain Edward Rice who is going to the Judge Advocate General the legal division of the Air Force, at Holloman Air Force Base, New Mexico.

CAPTAIN BLAKESLEE

Captain William Blakeslee is going to take the Interceptor Controller course at Tyndall Air Force Base, Florida. Upon completion of the course, he will be sent to one of the Air Defense Command's radar warning sites similar to the site of St. Albans, Vermont. The Captain will be replaced by Major Colin Reley who is also returning from Germany.

The one airman to depart from the detachment is S/Sgt. Morris Campbell. Leaving because his enlistment is up, he will be replaced by A/1C Dwinal Deeve, from Presque Isle Air Force Base, Maine.

Reps. Lecture To Students

by J.F. McGuirk

Last Saturday afternoon, the Student Body played host to two members of the House Foreign Affairs Committee in Austin Hall. Rep. A.S.J. Carnahan (-Mo.) and Rep. C.E. Merrow (R.N.H.) presented their "Bi-Partisan Look at Foreign Affairs" upon the invitation of the Student Council Lecture Series under David Dowd, Chairman.

TOPICS

The Speakers attempted to answer three questions: What is Foreign Policy? How is it formed? And what areas are covered under Foreign Policy?

In answering these questions, four basic purposes of United States Foreign Policy were outlined: 1) Build a peaceful world order, 2) support the Dignity of man and freedom of the individual, 3)

Hello Folks

The MICHAELMAN Staff, on behalf of the Student body, and faculty, takes this opportunity to welcome each and every parent and guest to Saint Michael's College.

To those of our guests who have made this an annual affair, we hope that this will prove to be another enjoyable visit to the "hilltop". For the parents and guests that are visiting our college for the first time, a schedule has been arranged to afford you the opportunity to become acquainted with the college, its faculty, and the student body.

All of the events of the weekend are scheduled with the aim of better orienting the parents to the daily work and activities of their sons. This is done to allow the parents to better perform their role as collaboraters in their son's overall education and development.

As We See It...

As we all know, the student publication is of extreme importance to every college campus. It is through this medium that each student is made aware of current activities and those which are to come to pass.

Everyone of us will agree that such a publication as the MICHAELMAN should carry every important happening and activity that takes place at the time it takes place. We bring this point to view with the specific idea of nominations and elections in mind.

It will be quite evident in this issue of the MICHAELMAN that the story of nominations is a story of the past - dead wood. But as a college newspaper, such thing with the degree of interest that this holds should be brought to the full attention of the student body.

We should be familiar with the men who represent us in the Student Council. If nominations were held at such a time that the MICHAELMAN could publish the names before elections rolled around, each would be a better informed student.

In relation to nominations, the class elections could be held one week later, thereby fostering a longer and more effective campaign period. Should this hypothetical plan be inaugurated, each student would be kept abreast of men running for office and could also receive the results in the MICHAELMAN when it is newsworthy.

It is in keeping with this ideal that we take this opportunity to encourage any student who feels he has a newsworthy item to bring it to the attention of a member of the MICHAELMAN Staff.

Question: What is the most important question facing the new Secretary of State?

Peter Greene, Class of '60
East Hartford, Conn.

As we know the Secretary of State's job is concerned primarily with foreign affairs.

The most important issue which faces the new Secretary of State, Christian Herter, is the formation of a more solid foreign policy. The foreign policy which the U.S. has now, has caused quite a bit of controversy. I believe the policy that Mr. Herter will follow is going to be along more flexible lines, for the simple reason that Herter is the type of man who will have the top men in the field of foreign affairs for advice. By avoiding the policy Dulles had of using his own discretion on foreign matters, he should be able to do a more satisfactory job.

Kenneth Madigan, Class of '59
Hartford, Connecticut

The most important question facing Christian Herter is the coming Foreign Ministers' Conference in May. Secretary Herter will have to secure the united efforts of the Western democracies in their stand on the Berlin Crisis. The outcome of this conference and the future relations with Russia may well rest upon the success or failure of Herter in filling his position as the new Secretary of State.

J. Peter Harvey, Class of '61
Bennington, Vermont

The new Secretary of State probably has numerous important questions facing him at this time. Since Mr. Herter has had a lifelong concern for foreign affairs and has been on many diplomatic missions, he is probably asking himself if he will be able to represent the U.S. satisfactorily in Geneva at the West-East Foreign Ministers Conference. He might also be asking himself if he will fulfill his new job as well as his predecessor.

The Broken Fungo

by Vin Farrell

The question has often beclouded my mind on what a normal person should be. Oh, it has been said from time to time by Sages of Logic that man falls into various ruts. He is either outside the Pale of Normalcy (No pun on Harding intended), or he is so far in that his "Dan River" shirt and rep tie become wilted. Now I will not attempt to analyse these "Orphans of Manchester". The mutations of the Modern Day have been picked apart too expertly for my eager talents to show any more examples.

Now maybe I'm just "C'est Peuple" but I don't become over perceptive if the person sitting next to me is a slave to convention or whether his idea of convention is "babes and bourbon". Maybe my mind is oblivious to to the intellectual pattern that is being cast, although I do know that Suburbia is not the past tense of superb.

Much can be said for the individualist who sees that his creative effort is being stifled and sets about to unshackle himself . . . but when his actions are misconstrued as a Social Protest by "Delphic Oracles of class psychology" I think that a great injustice has been done. If man sometimes seems to cling a little too tenaciously to the norms of his surroundings, I don't think his acquisitiveness is an omen that his issue will be pasty faced blondes with braces on their teeth or dull Marquand heroes. True, it is the vogue to characterize this group with their supposedly lack of "largess" . . . To each his own . . . John O'Hara finds solace in the "Peccadilloes of Pennsylvanians".

To me every class has its particular trademarks, just as every individual has his own quaint theories. To label the class promiscously is just as shallow as to say that the individual is seemingly as colorful as snow just because he doesn't know the latest trends in intellectual currents . . . . . The only men of straw are seen through the wasteland of viewer's sneer.

SON OF OMAR KHAYYAM

I.
A Book of Verses underneath the Bough,
Some Schaefer Beer, a Loaf of Bread—and Thou
Beside me yakketing in the Wilderness—
Oh, just the Beer were Paradise enow!

II.
Come, fill the Cup with golden Schaefer brew,
For in the Best of Circles it is true
Each parchèd Voice cries, "Schaefer all around!"
Ah, Love, I echo them—and think of You!

III.
Oh, my Beloved, let us now make haste
To sip our Schaefer with its smooth Round taste:
We know it's never Sharp and never Flat,
And in this World we've little time to Waste!

IV.
And those who husbanded the golden Grain—
Sun-ripened, perfect, gently kissed by Rain—
Have sent it to us now in Schaefer Beer,
And Worldly Hope is in my Heart again!

V.
And any time, my Friend, you come to pass
Schaefer to Guests star-scattered on the Grass,
And in your happy errand reach the place
Where I once stood—turn down an empty Glass!

Revised Constitution Vote On Tuesday

by James V. Canavan

The issue of membership under a new Constitution involved the Student Council in lengthy unfinished debate Tuesday evening. A self-imposed 8:30 time limit adjourned the governing body while it was still deadlocked on the first of a ten page list of proposed amendments to the present Constitution.

Moving rapidly through amendments of Articles I - IV, debate soon centered on the thorny question of a predominance among class or club representatives. Lobbying factions engendered hopeless discussion in attempts to secure both voice and vote under the new definitions of organized, recognized and recognized-represented clubs.

Question of whether there should be more class or club representatives in the Council has been the object of debate for years. Three years ago the Constitution was completely re-written, effecting a major change by admitting a greater number of class representatives and creating the Organization of Club Presidents.

The latter organization was allowed to elect one-third of its membership as voting delegates to the Council while the remaining two-thirds would have a voice but no vote. Many have since sought to re-establish all clubs as voting members, nearly equating class and club representatives.

WHO VOTES?

Difficulty has also arisen from traditional Council procedures of recognizing a club and granting it a vote. Although unwritten, traditional rules and precedent have established a three year organization period for a club.

In its initial year, a club was known as an Organized Club; in the second year as a Recognized Club and finally, in the third year, a club achieved Recognized Represented Club status, giving it a vote in the Council.

Complications have also been added by the extent to which the Council financially supports a club. Power of the purse has been the legislative body's agent of control over club activities and the source of the Council's status as director of all clubs.

As recently as last Fall, the budgets of the MICHAELMAN Shield, Lance and Debating Club were withdrawn and the College financed these activities. This gave use to the question of the status of these clubs in the Council touching off the debate of last Tuesday was the desire of these clubs to retain membership in the Council while continuing to be financed from other sources.

A result of a full year's study by a special committee, the multiple amendments were considered article by article, section by section before re-reiving approval. The first major change sought by the committee was to eliminate class vice-presidents, secretaries and treasurers as representatives in the Counril. A limited amount of debate determined the measure was not universally well-received and it was ultimately defeated, 16-11.

Article V, Section 2 on club membership initiated the long-brewing discussion. The amendment, desired by the committee, reads: ''All recognized and subsidised clubs shall be represented in the Student Council by their President or a duly elected officer for that specific function.''

Dick Hickey, editor of the MICHAELMAN, immediately amended the section to read ''all recognized and/or subsidized clubs.'' Looking ahead to the proposed definitions of Organized, Rerognized and Recognized-Represented Clubs, Hickey sought to insure both voice and vote for these clubs being subsidized by the College. The amendment brought forth the need for defining what was meant by ''recognized,'' ''subsidized'' and ''represented'' in this section and while attempting to do this, the 8:30 time limit was reached.

EMERGENCY SESSION DUE

Although Hickey's amendment was passed, the motion to accept the entire section was tabled to leave it open to further discussion at an emergency meeting called by President Roland LaFleur.

DINING HALL STATUS

Earlier in the evening Rev. James E. Coombs, Moderator, addressed the Council concerning the delay in beginning construction of the new Student Union. The federal bill in Congress to allocate funds for such buildings is presently locked in committee with the House of Representatives, he explained.

Having successfully passed the Senate twice, and yet defeated once in the House, the bill cannot now be brought to the floor of the House for a vote as the Rules Committee is divided 6-6 on the measure. In the meantime, St. Michael's can merely wait for its passage before getting approval of the loan with which to start construction.

REPS.

encourage rapid economic growth of free nations, and 4) assist in the preparation for and attain national independence.

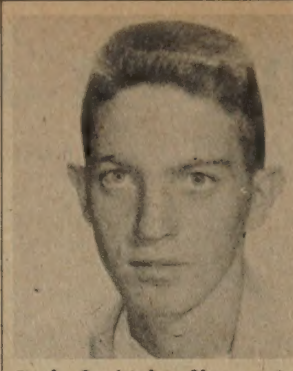
It was further stated that in our appraisal of policy, we should take a picture of the "Impact of the 20th Century", which would be noted in five aspects: 1) Menace of nuclear weapons, 2) Growth of Communist expansionism, 3) Need for collective action, 4) Demand by millions for a better life, and 5) Emergence of newly independent nations.

POINTS ON FOREIGN POLICY

Among the "Areas" of Foreign Policy mentioned were the significant collective security alignments of tne free world and even more important the subject of Mutual Security, in which program, the U.S. spends only five cents of the tax dollar.

It was almost over-emphasized that the mutual Security money comes back into the U.S. Economy: 78% directly and 22% indirectly, thus indicating that Mutual Security is not "rat-hole" money but is the heart of American Foreign Policy which is easily recognizable in that it supports the U.S., strengthens American alliance, and defense effort, assist economic development and stimulates U.S. and World Trade.

The Congressmen's information was more than well received by those in attendance but even more indicative of the sincere enthusiasm of the students was the fact that at the coffee hour which followed, the Congressmen had very little chance to sit, let alone drink their coffee, for they were repeatedly bombarded with questions.



Paul Speidel, Class of '62
Bristol, Connecticut

Will the new Secretary's health handicap him in his job? The extensive distance the Secretary must cover to attend the conferences coming up will put a strain on him. At the moment his arthritis does not detract from his normal, mental or physical activities but that is not an indication of his future health. I do not believe that the new Secretary's health will impair his duties.

Student Loan Plan Tabled For Season

STUDENT LOAN PLAN

In the previous week's meeting, the Council received a final report from Committee Chairman Jim Carroll on the Student Loan Plan. "Regrettably," conceeded Carroll, "The plan will not be put into effect this year."

Difficulty in the actual operation of the student loan was found in the treatment of those failing to repay the fund. The committee originally proposed a penalty of withholding a student's transcript, in the case of Seniors, or preventing a student from taking final exams if in debt to the loan fund.

Dean of Studies Fr. Morin, however, could not agree to these stipulations. "I could not, in conscience, withhold a transcript or examinations from a student for a $10 debt," Carroll quoted Fr. Morin. The Dean of Studies rather requested including steps in the plan which the Council itself could enforce in such cases.

Two possible solutions of sending letters to an indebted student's parents or barring him from extra-curricular and social activities were offered. The plan and possible solutions were directed to next year's Council with the hope that they might be instigated early next year.

Juniors Seek To Bury Weekend

It was announced today by James Aquino and Michael Gelinas, Co-Chairmen of Junior Weekend 1959, that permission has been asked of the Very Reverend Gerald Dupont, S.S.E., president of St. Michael's College, to have the guest book of the weekend placed into one of the cornerstones of either the new dormitory or Student Union-Dining Hall.

GUEST BOOK

Included in the guest book would be the activities of the weekend in the form of a diary, the names of Michaelmen and their dates attending the Weekend, faculty members present, members of the formal receiving line, king and queen, Ray McKinley, and other material concerning the weekend.

When asked why such a permission was requested the Co-Chairmen said that "Junior Weekend is the largest social weekend here on campus, and being that the new building will probably begin this May, it would add a more personal pride and feeling if the names of more than 400 Michaelmen, faculty and friends were sealed in with other mementos in the new building."

The Junior Weekend Committee is now awaiting the President's reply. As soon as it arrives plans for the entire weekend will be complete.

Advisory Program Modified

by Vin Farrell

Dr. Edward Pfeifer announced that the program of advice on graduate level assistance will be modified. Due to the expected absence of several faculty members, a committee on scholarship counseling will be set up with Dr. Pfeifer as co-ordinating chairman.

Any student desiring information or guidance on any fellowship or scholarship will contact Dr. Pfeifer who will designate the faculty advisor too that should be consulted. Besides the major grants, the student is also urged to get information on stipends and assistantships given by universities.

It is to be noted well that any student seeking financial aid from the institution of his choice must submit a written report to the committee stating the reason for his preference of the school, the field of his concentration and reasons for working under various professors.

This report is to be submitted in early autumn. Since such a report entails a certain amount of work, the student is urged to familiarize himself with the university during the summer by means of bulletins and catalogues. Anton Pegis Leads Re-evaluation Plan

Dr. Anton C. Pegis, Ph.D., Professor of the History of Philosophy at the Pontifical Institute of Mediaeval Studies, Toronto, will conduct seminars at St. Michael's College on May 8-9, for the purpose of re-evaluating the program of Philosophy and Theology.

Dr. Pegis is one of the outstanding philosophers in North America ranking with such men as Jacques Martain and Etienne Gilson. He has taught at Marquette University, Fordham University and the University of Toronto. He is presently affiliated with the Catholic Textbook Division of the firm of Doubleday and company where he acts as advisor and director for publications of books pertaining to Philosophy and Theology text-books for school and college use. Ten years ago when St. Michael's inaugurated the Delta Epsilon Sigma lectures, Dr. Pegis spoke here.

SEMINARS

The seminars to be conducted by Dr. Pegis will be attended by the members of the two departments of philosophy and theology. Plans have been made in regard to these seminars and departmental meetings have been conducted beginning last December. After hearing Dr. Pegis, further meetings will be held and the results will become evident in terms of curriculum and program in the school year of 1960-61.

PURPOSE

The programs of philosophy and theology will be re-evaluated in the light of the following points:

1) What a Catholic College owes to its students by way of instruction;

2) The order of study preservant of the intellectual disciplines in the two programs of study;

3) Clarification of the position of philosophy in the curriculum as a discipline of unity on a natural level;

4) Interpretation of a program in terms of textbooks and curriculum procedures.

The carrying on of these seminars does not mean that the program as it is set up at the present time is faulty, but according to Fr. Morin, Academic Dean, "The program as presently conceived and taught is a good, sound program; the purposes of these seminars is to descern where it may be perfected and such decisions as are made will find their implementation in the scholastic year in 1960-61."

Glee Club Travels To Chicopee, Mass.

by Bob Vaulkhausen

On May 6 the Glee Club completes its 1958-'59 schedule with a concert at Our Lady Of The Elms College, Chicapee, Mass.

The Glee Club, consisting of 48 men, with James Garofano as accompanist, will sing the same numbers they sang at St. Joseph's College in Hartford, Conn., last month. In addition they will sing with the chorus of Our Lady Of The Elms College The Omnipotence by Franz Schubert and a medley by Victor Herbert. The latter selection is being sung in connection with the centennial celebration of the composer's birth this year.

The Knightlighters, under the direction of Dick Fanelli, will also sing. A dance for the two colleges will follow the concert.

This Saturday night 24 members of the Glee Club who cut short their Christmas vacation to participate in the televised opening of the Champlain Festival, will receive medals and certificates in appreciation of their contribution.

Field Day Antics To Spark Weekend

On Saturday, May 2, in line with the activities for Parents Weekend, the Annual Interclass Field Day will be held. It is hoped good weather permitting, that the events will take place on the athletic field at 1:30 p.m.

Softball season is in full swing on the Hilltop and classes are competing for the interclass lead and the Victorious Knights Trophy. Seniors and Sophomores are currently tied for first place. In the above action scene the Sophomores dusted off the Juniors.

With the fight for this years' Interclass championship so close between the three upper classes, this field day may pave the way for the victorious class.

The events scheduled are as follows: 100 yd. dash, 200 yd. dash, football punt and throw, baseball throw and running the bases, shotput discus, standing broadjump, running broadjump, ½ mile relay and running the bases.

Three of 58's event winners are back and are favored to duplicate their fine showing of a year ago. Tom Lanci, a sophomore, won the shotput and Hank Gretkowski won the baseball throw and running broad jump, Gretkowski's roommate, "Tiger" Nicodemo ran the bases faster than anyone and the two practically won the whole meet together.

If the scoring goes as it did last year the winner of an event will receive 5 points, second gets 3 and third gets one point.

64 Candidates Seek Office

With elections scheduled Friday, May 1, nominations for next year's class officers and representatives were held in Science Hall Monday, April 27, with Chairman Jim Canavan presiding.

Frosh. Champs

The 1958-59 Interclass Kingpin League is over and the Freshmen have won. John Stevens of the Seniors led in all the individual departments.

The final point spread is as following:

Class of 62 - 37 points
Class of 60 - 36 points
Class of 59 - 35 points
Class of 61 - 28 points

The last week of action saw the Juniors win 4-0 by a forfeit over the Frosh who had already cinched the Championship. The Seniors took a 4-0 triumph over a makeshift Sophomore team. John Stevens bowled the high triple of 582 to climax his fine year.

The top ten bowlers included 4 freshmen, 4 seniors, and 2 juniors.

1. John Stevens, Senior 174.27
2. John Clancy, Frosh 168.28
3. Larry Cellestino, Frosh 167.23
4. Neil Shea, Senior 164.15
5. John Wyman, Junior 158.13
6. John Zurlo, Junior 156.24
7. Russ Camire, Senior 152.40
8. Tom O'Donaghue, Frosh 152.29
9. Pat Bruno, Senior 152.22
10. Jim Duncan, Frosh 151.22

The Sophomore Class had numbers 11, 12, 13 on their roster. John Stevens will receive the trophy for the high single with a 243; second high game was rolled by John Zurlo with a 223, John Stevens had a 216 for the third high single. John Stevens also had the three high triples of 582, 579, and 575.

This was a very successful and exciting season as each class held the top spot for at least two weeks. The humor of bowlers like Neal Shea, Russ Camire, Jerry Humiston, Willie Gothers, and Larry Cellestino kept a pleasant atmosphere at all times.

Two of the most improved bowlers during the year were Bob Campiglia of the Juniors, and Tom O'Donaghue of the Freshman.

The returning teams next year will be closely matched and should provide for another fine year of bowling.

Tennis Underway

Last week the tennis singles got started under the direction of George Cronin. The contestants chosen were entered as the best players in each class by their respective class presidents.

Of the 32 original players only 16 are left. The victor of each match is the winner of the best two out of three sets up to the quarter finals. After the quarter finals the winner is the player of the best three out of five sets.

Dave Williams and Fred Armstrong have successfully played in the most matches each being a quarter-finalist.

There has been one unexpected upset so far. "Bart" Longo, a freshman, beat Phil Sheridan who placed third in last year's tournament.

George Cronin, the winner of the tournament last year, and Walt Kennedy, tournament winner in his freshman year, seem to be the men to watch. Other possible winners are Dennis Horgan, Joe Phelan, Dave Williams, and Fred Armstrong.

The semi-finals are scheduled to end on Saturday; the finals on Tuesday. After the singles tournament is over it is hoped that a doubles tournament can be arranged. Anyone who wants to play should see their president.
